AIDUCATION 20-10 TAKING CONTROL OF AIDS

DOWNLOAD

Xlibris Corporation. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 290 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. This book is about the life of a district medical officer who worked in Botswana, looking after African patients admitted to the wards with various tropical conditions including HIV infections, TB and AIDS. This is a true life story of an African medical doctor who wanted to prevent new HIV infections and to give better care and support to people living with HIV infections, TB and AIDS. It is a story of an African teaching intervention strategy that was called and labelled controversial radical shock tactics alarmist and other names by foreign consultants coming to Africa to assess Africa's AIDS Control programmes. The unique teaching strategy was born in 1989 at Livingstone General Hospital in Zambia with very little support. Livingstone is the home of the Victoria Falls and the birth of AIDUCATION 20-10 Taking Control of AIDS. The book, AIDUCATION 20-10 Taking Control of AIDS is about prevention of new HIV infections and support for people living with AIDS. AIDUCATION 20-10 is about Dr Edwin Maparas story as a medical doctor in Africa in the 1990s and as a teacher in Europe in 2010- implementing a teaching strategy that several Western Consultants from Europe and America said was not workable- the several challenges met locally, nationally and internationally- barriers to teaching about health encountered- culture, language and communication- strengths of the teaching strategy- the growth of the teaching strategy- sexually transmitted infections- the A-Z of AIDS- the A-Z of tuberculosis (TB) - the teaching strategy now being used in universities in Europe while Africa waits due to recommendations from foreign consultants to wait- African best practice programmes- Botswana's success story in controlling HIV infections and AIDS- the teaching strategy that is now twenty years old and is used...
